

FALL & WINTER UNDERWEAR.

Your attention is respectfully called to this popular department.

The largest stock in the city to select from in Ladies' Misses' and Gents'.

Inspection solicited.

Wm. Curran,

119 & 121 OHIO STREET.

WEEKLY BAZOO.

SEDALIA, MO.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1882.

Weather Report.

Corrected daily for the BAZOO by C. G. Taylor, Horologist and Optician, No. 9 Ohio street, for the twenty-four hours ending at 2 o'clock p. m., October 7, 1882.

| TIME.  | TEMP. | BAR.  | WIND. | WEATHER. |
|--------|-------|-------|-------|----------|
| 8 p.m. | 74    | 29.12 | sw    | Rain.    |
| 2 a.m. | 72    | 29.10 | s     | Cloudy.  |
| 8 p.m. | 84    | 29.02 | sw    | Rain.    |

Extremes 65 and 74°.

BAZOO BUZZ.

—S. A. Wright for sewing machines.
—School books at McClellan's. 1m
—Chew New Process Happy Thought Navy.
—New maple syrup at Cain Bros. 5-3.
—The only arrival at the hospital yesterday was John Bradley, a work train laborer from Chamois, suffering with chills and fever.

—Yesterday was another dull day in the criminal line in the justice's courts, not a single criminal case appearing on the docket of any of the courts.

—“And Brutus was an honorable man,” but he was not happy, because he had never seen those handsome suits at the Golden Eagle, One Price Clothing House.

—Nick Worth, was found lying in a drunken stupor on the sidewalk on Ohio street about 11 o'clock last night and provided with quarters in the cooler.

—Pilot Grove possesses a paper, the Bee, and a right smart sheet it is, full of advertisements, which means success, and sprightly local matter. May the Bee buzz right along.

—Friday evening the horse attached to West's grocery delivery wagon, but not hitched to anything, else ran off and managed to smash the wagon to smithereens. This may be a lesson for the future.

—Sol Smith Russell plays as follows: Boonville, Oct. 9; Sedalia, Oct. 10; Fort Scott, Oct. 11; Springfield, Oct. 12; Carthage, Oct. 13; Joplin, Oct. 14; Parsons, Kas., Oct. 16. The company then go to Texas.

—The Indian Chieftain, a new publication from Vinita, I. T., has been received in this office. It is neatly printed and well edited, and, in all probability, will make its mark in that portion of the world.

—When fashionable lassitude is established to the destruction of healthful emotion, and the sufferer longs for death, rather than life, there is no better remedy than Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, which brace up the system and give to sleep its blessed reposefulness.

—Officer Meyers, while in Chicago, paid a very thorough visit to the police department of that city, and gained many valuable pointers. Early Wednesday morning of last week he assisted a Chicago cop in the arrest of a bad burglar. Thus does the ruling passion reign even amid pleasures and sight-seeing.

Decline of Man.

Nervous Weakness, Dyspepsia, Impotence, Sexual Debility, cured by “Wells' Health Renewer.” $1.

THE NEW STORE.

—OF—

Messery & Meuschke

Is full of goods, and the prices marked on them are so low that no other house in Sedalia can touch.

Another lot of those basket flannels just received and again

DOWN AGAIN

Went the prices to 60 cents per yard. The most desirable gloves so lively at $1.25 per pair. Foster patent gloves go lively at $1.50 per pair. Big stock in medium grades

CHEAP

Latest novelties in neck wear. Silk, wool, and cotton hose from 5 cents to $2.50 per pair. Our notion department in general is full and complete. Special inducements again this week in cloaks, dolmans, sacques and slaters, ladies and misses gossamer slaters.

Messery & Meuschke

Between Third and Fourth

UTTERLY BASELESS.

The Rumors of a Conflict Between Mr. Talmage and the Engineers Totally Unfounded.

The Globe-Democrat of last Friday contained the following dispatch from this city:

“When the recent conference between Mr. Talmage, of the Gould system, and a committee of engineers was held at St. Louis, it was thought that all differences between the railroad company and the employees was finally settled, to-day it is said that a circular was received from Mr. Talmage by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers indicating that there is still a ‘hitch’ in the affair. The society of engineers held a meeting to-day, and there seems to be considerable excitement among them, but nothing definite could be learned as to the exact cause of it.”

Believing that there was no foundation for this evidently sensational telegram and in order to get at the true inwardness of the matter, a BAZOO reporter yesterday went out in search of those parties who could, and would, give a true version of the matter. It has already been published that when a committee of locomotive engineers, representing all their brothers who pulled throttles over the Gould southern system, called upon Mr. A. A. Talmage, recently, and stated their grievances, that there was an agreement reached between Mr. Talmage and these wild rumors. The reporter had a talk with several locomotive engineers, showing them the above dispatch. Each and every one of them said that just after the agreement there was a little misunderstanding as to the terms, but an explanation had been made and that now everything was entirely satisfactory and agreeable.

Mr. J. H. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee that called on Mr. Talmage, was seen by the reporter, and to him Mr. Fitzgerald stated that there was no trouble whatever, and he desired the BAZOO to so state it. He was tired of these reports, as they were untrue and did Mr. Talmage and the engineers great injustice.

As this statement is at least semi-official, it certainly ought to set at rest all rumors about any difficulty between Mr. Talmage and the locomotive engineers.

No Cure for Consumption.

There is no cure for consumption, whether of the lungs, bowels or kidneys; yet the patient may be spared to long years of life, and the fatal termination kept from approaching, if Brown's Iron Bitters are used. This medicine strengthens the weakened parts, restores to healthy action the impaired functions, and stops all decay and wasting-away of the organs affected. It is the best life-giving medicine ever invented, and thousands of living witnesses stand ready to affirm the truth of this assertion. A trial bottle will convince you of its merit.

The School Board Meeting.

The school board held a meeting Friday evening, all the members being present except Mr. Dalby, with the president, G. L. Faulhaber in the chair. The following bills against the board were read, approved and warrants ordered for the same:

|                               |          |
|-------------------------------|----------|
| Sprague & Clark               | $108 10 |
| D. I. Holcomb                 | 2 25     |
| Mertz & Hale                  | 21 20    |
| A. Meyers & Co.               | 19 14    |
| C. Richardson                 | 105 00   |
| J. W. Conner                  | 1 75     |
| J. Walmsley                   | 305 53   |
| W. P. Cousley                 | 75       |
| Fred Bush                     | 58       |
| J. Bird                       | 3 00     |
| Pay roll                      | 1,305 69 |
| Janitors' wages for September | $45 00  |
| C. Poindexter                 | 30 00    |
| W. Alexander                  | 10 00    |
| F. Woody                      | 100 00   |
| Chas. Smith                   | 100 00   |

The board then went into executive session and a BAZOO reporter, who was present, was requested to retire.

A motion was made to reconsider some of the salaries of the teachers already fixed, but objection being made, the motion was declared out of order. The temporary suspension of Joseph Fisher and Alice Brown, obstreperous pupils, was reported by the committee on discipline. On motion the committee was sustained in its action in the premises.

The board then adjourned.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate in Dyspepsia.

Dr. A. Jenkins, Great Falls, N. H., says: “I have prescribed it and can testify to its seemingly almost specific virtues in cases of dyspepsia, nervousness and morbid vigilance or wakefulness.”

“Music Makes Melody in the Human Heart.”

“Good wine drives away dull care.” Good liquors are appreciated by everybody; so say the friends of Frank & Otto, who sample their fine wines and liquors, and hear Professor Oscar Tasche perform on the piano. His selections are from the finest German professors.

The grand old Missouri Pacific never comes in but what it brings a delegation to sample the straight goods and hear the delightful strains of music's sweetest chords.

In the future, as in the past, every effort will be put forth to please and excel on all occasions. The determination of the proprietors is to conduct the most genteel and orderly place in the city, and to please all who may favor them with their patronage.

“Necessity is the mother of invention.” Disease of the liver, kidneys and bowels brought forth that sovereign remedy Kidney-Wort, which is nature's normal curative for all those dire complaints. In either liquid or dry form it is a perfect remedy for those terrible diseases that cause so many deaths.

Perfect Sight.

As thousands can testify, there is nothing so much to be desired as perfect sight, and perfect sight can only be obtained by using perfect spectacles. C. G. Taylor, our home optician, exercises great skill and patience in fitting those needing spectacles, with care and comfort to the wearer.

[12-11d]

MILITARY MATTERS.

Meeting of the Sedalia Rifles Friday Night.

The Question of Reorganization Duly Considered.

The term of enlistment of the military organization known as the Sedalia Rifles being about to expire, the question of whether the company shall be continued by reenlistment or disbanded, has, for the past few days, been agitated by members of the company. There has also been considerable interest manifested in the matter by citizens outside of the organization, the general desire to see the company, which has obtained great proficiency in drill, and which has been a great credit to the city, kept up.

Some of the members of the company, however, have, and justly so, felt aggrieved at the apparent slight interest which has been manifested in the organization by citizens generally, and the very slight encouragement which has been given it, financially or otherwise. The members of the company have been at considerable expense in procuring uniforms and renting an armory, and as the expense of keeping up the company in the future will be no small matter, it is not to be wondered at that some of the members feel discouraged and hesitate about the propriety and advisability of re-enlisting for another three years.

A meeting of the company was held Friday night, at which about twenty members were present, and the matter of re-enlistment and reorganization was pretty thoroughly canvassed. Capt. H. C. Demuth, the commander of the Rifles, presided, and F. L. Hardcastle acted as secretary.

Capt. Demuth stated that he was in favor of reorganization, and thought that if the majority of the members would re-enlist, the company could be filled to at least the minimum number required, thirty-four, by recruits. He said that pecuniary aid could be reasonably expected at an early day, both from the city and state, and that the expense incurred in becoming a member of the company would hereafter be decreased from $50 as formerly to about $15.

Mayor Messery thought that while there was at present very little incentive to serve the state in the capacity of a bold militiaman, yet if a suitable hall could be obtained, the company should be continued, as drilling was a pleasant pastime for the long winter evenings, and he, for one, enjoyed it. He would be in favor of instituting regular weekly drills.

After remarks by several other members, the question of re-enlistment was submitted and the following named gentlemen signed their willingness and their desire to re-enlist and reorganize the company: E. E. Messery, H. E. Dean, W. D. Steele, A. S. Caldwell, Chas. Taylor, Fred Gunther, Taylor Newkirk, Wm. Kels, H. C. Demuth, L. C. Beck, H. F. Parke, J. A. Lamy and Frank Hardcastle. The following named gentlemen, while they desired to see the organization continued, declined to re-enlist, for the reason that their business would not permit them to give the necessary time and attention to their duties as soldiers: C. Gunther, Wm. Latour, J. H. Lewis and H. W. Mueschke.

On motion, Mr. Hardcastle, the secretary, was appointed a committee of one to call on the members of the company and request them to be re-enlisted.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Height of Folly.

To wait until you are in bed with disease you may not get over for months, is the height of folly, when you might be easily cured during the early symptoms by Parker's Ginger Tonic. We have known sickly families made the healthiest, by a timely use of this pure medicine.—Observer.

A Distinguished Guest.

General Winfield S. Hancock, accompanied by Lieutenant Barber, of his staff, arrived in the city yesterday morning.

At 9:40 a. m. he took the train, accompanied by J. H. Bothwell, his attorney, Lieutenant Barber, Col. Eddy, superintendent of the K. & T. R. Jackson, of the Pacific hospital and others, and proceeded to Windsor, where they arrived at about 11 a. m. The party at once proceeded to the general's farm, which is situated near town. After viewing the place and giving some directions looking towards its improvement, the party returned to Windsor and Sedalia, arriving here at 4 o'clock.

The general and Lieutenant Barber were dined at the Park hotel yesterday evening, at which were present J. H. Bothwell, Dr. Jackson, F. Houston, R. T. Gentry and others.

General Hancock entered the land which he is now making into a farm nearly thirty years ago when this country was almost a boundless prairie.

Sedalia is frequently honored by the presence of this distinguished soldier, and if he did not always shrink from attentions and display he would some time be accorded a public reception.

The general and his lieutenant left for St. Louis last night.

—Women that have been pronounced incurable by the best physicians have been completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

—The meeting of colored voters in Lincolnville, appointed Friday night, did not take place. A few of the faithful assembled at Philip's hall, but the presence of three reporters seemed to demoralize them, and they adjourned indefinitely.

—LADIES! beautify your complexion with Glen's Sulphur Soap.

—“Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye,” 50 cents.

—There is great complaint on account of the inefficiency of the telephone service. There should be a more satisfactory management of this most necessary luxury.

—CHURCH-YARD coughs can be cured by Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar.

—Pike's Toothach Drops cure in one minute.

A SAD BATCH.

A Tired Preacher Tries Morphine and Dies.

Too Much Gin and its Sad Results.

How a Boy Was Killed Quickly Under a Church.

The Fate of a Lady Who Snored.

A commercial traveler, with hair full of cinders and his head filled with tragic items just fresh from Cass county, dropped into the BAZOO office at midnight last night and narrated to a reporter a batch of items that made everybody connected with the paper published for the people now on earth smile with feebish delight.

NO. 1.

On Thursday night, Oct. 5, a man named E. E. Clarke, a preacher and a blacksmith, living at Dayton, Cass county, took six grains of morphine, and lived six hours and then passed to the other shore to pound iron and preach in the realm beyond. The cause of the strange act is a mystery which was subsequently investigated by the coroner, but the verdict of the jury was not known to our informant. The deceased was fifty years old and bore a most excellent reputation.

NO. 2.

Wilson Feely, a farmer residing near Adrian, Bates county, accompanied by a young man, went to town on Friday evening and got half full of bug juice. They cavorted around town in a half-drunken condition, and finally tipped over and broke Feely's arm, and otherwise so injured him that his life, if he is not already dead when this is read, is despaired of. Feely is about sixty years old, and a man of family.

NO. 3.

On Wednesday last, while some workmen were engaged in moving a Baptist church at Austin, a boy was sent under the building to adjust some blocks when a jack screw gave away and let the building down on the boy, killing him instantly. No inquest was held.

NO. 4.

On Thursday night last, Mrs. Grimes, a young married woman, residing near Dayton, retired for the night and to all appearances fell asleep and snored. It seems that Mr. Grimes was a snorer of some considerable magnitude and his wife had been laughing at him about it. When Mr. Grimes went to bed he supposed his wife making fun of imitating his snore. He shook her and becoming alarmed, called in aid, but to no avail; she was dead in a few minutes. No inquest.

—The great sympathetic and muscular system, on which full and healthful development depends, kept from growing flabby and inactive by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

The Traveled Lady.

A jaunt over a railway is often as good as a trip to the minstreels. Last week we took a spin over the Michigan Central, and during our waking moments were highly edified, amused and instructed by the tone and conversation of two ladies in the seat forment our own, across the aisle and about the binnacle. The variety of their intelligence and a vast fund of general information attracted our attention, and we just sat there and drank it all in like cold truth from a living spring.

“Do you suppose they have air brakes on this train?” inquired the one next the window, with a bronze green plume in her hat.

“O, yes, they run 'em now on all trains.”

“What are they for?”

“O, they are to ventilate the car and give 'em more fresh air. I heard they intended to put 'em on cattle cars so the poor animals could get plenty of oxygen.”

“Indeed? 'his is a wonderful age. Did you ever ride in a chair car?”

“O, yes, they are just the nicest kind of cars. Some of 'em are real easy, too; have rockers on 'em. But I like a sleeper the best.”

“Yes, they are more homelike and comfortable. If any accident happens they unhook the sleeper and leave it the last station.”

“Why, my! How nice!”

“Yes, and the sleeper is much more comfortable to ride in because it don't go as fast as the rest of the train.”

“It don't?”

“O, no. Charles says the Pullman company won't allow the railroads to haul the sleepers now so fast as the balance of the cars.”

“Why, how strange?”

“Yes, very.”

“What do you suppose makes the train sway so, back and forth?”

“O, I heard that the railroad company had been experimenting lately with rockers on the cars. It's something to do with concussion and retraction of the expansive compression, or something of that kind.”

“What a wonderful age!”

“It is really. And these accident insurance companies are a great improvement over the old style of traveling. Charles says all first-class roads carry them now-days, and it makes one so much more secure to know that they are on the same train with one of them. They are worked by electricity, and must cost awful high, don't you think so?”

“Yes, they must that.”

A Difficult Problem Solved.

The desire for stimulants is becoming a monstrous evil, and how to overcome it is a serious question with reformers. Parker's Ginger Tonic fairly solves the difficult problem. It invigorates body and mind without intoxicating, and has brought health and happiness to many desolate homes.—Enquirer. See other column.

For Sale.

A complete country printing office for sale cheap. It consists of Washington hand press, Gordon jobber, type, cases, stands, imposing stones, sticks and type in abundance. Address

J. Wm. Goodwin, Sedalia, Mo.

2-27d

CRITTENDEN'S CRITICS.

What Sedalia's Prominent Citizens Think of the Proposed Pardoning of Frank James.

A Number of Representative Citizens Interviewed on the All Absorbing Topic.

The recent surrender of the famous Frank James to Governor Crittenden, being the all-absorbing topic of conversation on the streets and in stores, offices and wherever two or three men chanced to meet, a BAZOO reporter yesterday started out to feel the pulse of public opinion in reference to the generally anticipated act of Governor Crittenden pardoning the noted outlaw. The question propounded by the reporter was, what do you think of the advisability or wisdom of Governor Crittenden in extending a pardon to Frank James, provided he should be convicted? Or, do you think it will be a wise precedent to set? Quite a number of our prominent citizens were approached by the scribe during the day, and that there is considerable diversity of opinion on the question will be shown by the interviews published below:

PRESIDENT BOSHERMAN

of the city council, said in answer to the questions of the reporter: “I, for one, am not in favor of the governor pardoning Frank James. Let him be treated as any other criminal. I think it would be an extremely bad precedent, for the governor to set, by pardoning him.”

ALDERMAN THOMAS.

I think that Frank James has acted the man in giving himself up, and ought not to be punished, as he has already been punished enough. I think he ought to be pardoned and then used to assist in putting down outlawry in the state. I do not think that he is half as bad a man as he is accused of being.

J. R. WEBBER.

I think it would be advisable to pardon him as long as he has given himself up, and has expressed a desire to become a good citizen, he should be assisted and I think that after he is once convinced, that instead of being clamorous for his blood, the people show confidence in his expressed intention of becoming a good citizen, it will go far towards making him such. Besides the outlaw is a man of family, having a wife and child, and I do not see where the interest of law and order will be subserved, or any good accomplished by condemning him to a felon's cell. He is not to be considered in the same light as an ordinary criminal. I think that Governor Crittenden has studied this matter carefully, and in all of its phases and has taken the step he deemed wisest and best.

ALDERMAN ILGENFRITZ.

I think he should have a fair and impartial trial, and if found guilty, punished just as any other criminal should be.

J. H. BOTHWELL.

I have not given the matter a moment's thought, and am, therefore, not prepared to express any opinion.

CAPT. R. M. FRAKER.

I have no opinion now to express in reference to the matter of pardon. I think it is too early in the day. I would prefer to wait until I see what the evidence is on the trial.

SQUIRE A. D. FISHER.

I think he has acted wisely in surrendering and having expressed his intention of becoming a peaceable, law-abiding citizen. I think it would be right and advisable to pardon him.

G. B. SIMMONS.

I think he ought to suffer the full penalty of the law. The precedent which would be set in pardoning him would be a bad one, and would have a bad tendency and a corrupt influence on the young men and boys of the land, by the authorities seemingly to wink at and tacitly encourage outlawry and crime. If he is guilty, by all means let him pay the penalty of his crimes.

MAYOR MESSERY.

The surrender of Frank James, with a plea for mercy, comes at rather a late day, and it can hardly be called a voluntary act, for he knew that the day of his capture was fast drawing near, and an unconditional surrender was his last resort. Frank James should have a fair and impartial trial by a jury of his countrymen, and, if convicted, should pay the extreme penalty of the law. His prospect for executive clemency is not favorable, for the experiment of making good and useful citizens out of such material would prove a failure, and the precedent thus established would be bad.

MARSHAL SHY.

I think Frank James ought to be treated just as any other criminal. If he is convicted of murder, he ought to be hung, or, if he is proven guilty of highway robbery, he should be sent to the penitentiary. Of course he ought to have a fair and impartial trial.

MAJOR WM. BECK.

I think that Frank James is being lionized entirely too much, and that the moral effect of this is very bad. He ought not to be pardoned, because it will establish a very bad and dangerous precedent. The law should take its full course. I am of the opinion that he surrendered because he knew he could not hold out much longer against the authorities.

ALDERMAN LANDER.

I think that he ought to have a fair and impartial trial, and if found guilty punished just as any other criminal is. I think that he knew that the meshes of the law were closing around him, and he surrendered, knowing that either his capture or murder was inevitable at no distant day. I do not believe in this thing of lionizing a criminal and desperado.

EX-MAYOR CRATCHCROFT.

I have thought very little about the matter, and am, therefore, not prepared to express an opinion. I think a great deal depends upon what is developed in the trial. It is very hard to tell what a jury will do. It may acquit a guilty man, or vice versa, condemn an innocent one.

MAJOR CURRENT.

I am a liberal man and am in favor of giving Mr. Frank James all the law allows him. If he is convicted, I am still in favor of giving him all the law allows him.

S. L. HIGHLEYMAN.

I think he will not be convicted, but if he is, I believe he will be pardoned, though he may serve a short term in the penitentiary for appearance sake. He knew he was running no danger when he surrendered.

CONTRACTOR JAMES FLEMING.

This gentleman was corralled at the time Candidate Highleyman was, and after hearing the opinion of the aspirant on the republican ticket for legislative honors, said in the language of “Me Too” Platt, “them's my sentiments.”

JUDGE W. S. SHIRK

I have